Twenty years ago, Dominique Hébrard, formerly co-owner of a prestigious Grand Cru Classé A, found himself in search of a new challenge following the sale of this area.Destiny led him to Château Trianon, then in a dilapidated state.Starting from nothing, he embarked on the restoration of this promising vineyard, writing a new page of his wine career and this vineyard with rich potential.Nestled southwest of Saint-Émilion, our vineyard extends over 16 hectares.Our domain takes its name, from the prestigious Grand Trianon of Versailles.The origins of this place date back to the 17th century, where it is said that a counselor by Louis XIV had the castle renamed and awarded him the name of "Trianon" in tribute to Versailles and the King of France.Our story, shaped over the centuries and rewritten two decades ago, is that of the vision of a man and a devoted team which made it possible to revive this magnificent property of its magnificent property.
