The Vineyard of the Château des Laurets is located straddling the names Puisin Saint-Emilion and Mountain Saint-Emilion.The entrance to the estate offers a view of a superb castle built around 1860, the architectural particularity of which lies in the existence of an octagonal central tower dominating its rear part and overlooking the vineyard.Installed on hillsides exposed to the south and revealing limestone outcrops in places, this excellent terroir gives the Merlot de Saint-Emilion all its power and typicity.Baron Benjamin de Rothschild acquired and renovated this superb property in 2003, with the desire to develop all its potential.
