HAUTE VALEUR ENVIRONNEMENTALE

Animated by the desire to own their own land and to produce quality wines, the ancestors of Christine who today directs the exploitation with her husband Philippe, planted their first vines on this promising land in the immediate vicinity of the hillof saint - emilion. From the first harvest until today, 5 generations have followed one another at the head of the farm.Over time, the vinification methods have refined to reveal all the flavors of this magnificent terroir. True guards of tradition, the operators of the estate make it a point of honor to perpetuate the know -how of Château Juguet.The passage of relays between parents and children is done over several years to ensure the sustainability of production methods.Maurice and Gisèle, Christine's parents are still present on the property and participate in the production of each vintage, especially during harvesting and vinification.
