The Château La Révérence is located behind the village of Saint-Emilion, in this pretty clay sector of the place called "Jean Voisin" at the foot of the Coteaux de Saint-Georges. Made up of 3 hectares, everything is done there to develop a Grand Cru. A small modern cellar was built there in 1998, allowing parcel vinification in small stainless steel and half-muids tanks (400 liters). The wines offer a fleshy and dense character reinforced by the large share of very old quality Cabernets in the assembly.
