Château Peyrelongue has been going through history for more than two centuries.Coming from the local patois, its name refers to the "long stone" which was held at the entrance of the property, at the crossroads.Menhirs marked the pilgrimage paths of Saint Jacques de Compostela over the centuries. Located at the foot of the hillside of Saint Emilion, Château Peyrelongue has been a family property for more than two centuries.After a flag passage from one family to another, in 2015 we are fortunate to cultivate their vines, the oldest of which are over 60 years old.
