HAUTE VALEUR ENVIRONNEMENTALE

The Walduck family, of English origin, acquired this small property around sixty years ago. The 11 hectare vineyard is divided between the Bordeaux and Lussac St Emilion appellations. A new generation is embarking on a profound renovation of the entire estate, starting with the vineyard, the winemaking and storage cellars and finally the expansion of the residence with a view to welcoming wine tourism. The most remarkable thing, after the quality of the wines, is their exclusive distribution on the English markets and more particularly in London. The entire production is exported to England and contributes to the reputation of French wines and particularly those of Lussac St Emilion.
